

Items to be supplied to school

Traditionally parents are supplied with a booklist at the beginning of each school year in most schools. Our educators have requested that the school purchase all books and stationery as they have specific requirements and prefer to use class sets rather than each child owning their own pencils, rubbers, rulers etc. From their experience working in this way reduces loss in working time and contributes to a co-operative class culture. We ask instead that parents provide a set of other essential items that the children use frequently and educators do not have specific requirements for.

Please give these items to your child's class educator.
